How the Richest Men in New York

A correspondent of the Rochester Democrat sketches two of the richest men of New York in this manner: WM. B. ASTOR .- Mr. Astor's office is in Prince street, near Broadway, where he may be found daily between the hours of "nine and three." He is a large, stout-built man, with coarse features, stiff, rough, sandy-colored hair, and a cast of countenance of a very ordinary type. He dresses plainly, but neatly, has a somewhat care worn look, and appears to be fifty to sixty years of age. His private office is of moderate size and of plain furniture. On a table are a few books, and on opening that one which appears most thumbed, you perceive that it is a volume of maps of city property, carefully and elegantly executed, and, as a whole, embracing the sundries of an enormous estate, estimated at over $25,-000,000. Mr. Astor resides in Lafavette Place, in one of a row of dwellings which twenty-five years ago were the grandest in the city, though now they are distanced by the palaces of the fifth avenue. Near by is the magnificent library founded by his father, to which he has added a fund nearly equal to the original endowment. Here he spends a small part of his time, the remainder being occupied by his duties in the Prince street office, where, Sundays excepted, he does a full day's work Used by—the City Post Office. every week. Thus the whole routine of life incinnati and way mail 11:00 A. M. of the richest man in America is a walk to and from home of a half a mile and close attention to business. The care of Mr. Astor's estate is a vast burden. He has several hundred tenants of all grades, from the $300 cot-Lafayette and Chicago 6:30 P. M. tage to the $30,000 store. He collects rents and makes quarterly returns, and thus pays over a sum which would be almost incredible, and which we may roughly estimate at $300,000 per annum. This man employs a small army of painters, carpenters, and other mechanics, in order to keep up re-pairs, and superintends the whole of this department. As a large part of Mr. Astor's property consists of vacant lots which are in Through mail...... 6:36 P. M continual demand, and which he will not sell, he is much employed with architects and master builders, and generally has one or two large blocks in course of erection at a time. This is a very serious burden. His son John Jacob is quite a business man, and bears his share of the load. Besides this, some fifteen Night had set in deep and dark, and in a years ago, a talented and elegant young mersmall log cabin, situated a few miles from Trenton, N.
